Candy COATed Trunk or Treat Celebrates the Spirit of Community Collaboration

Causeway CAREs joined OceanFirst Foundation and The Citta Foundation to co-host a Candy COATed Trunk or Treat event.

TOMS RIVER, NJ – In a heartwarming display of unity and generosity, Causeway CAREs partnered with fellow community foundations, the OceanFirst Foundation and The Citta Foundation to co-host a Candy COATed Trunk or Treat event on October 26. Held at the Hooper Ave location of OceanFirst Bank in Toms River, this event was a sweet success and a shining example of the power of community collaboration.

“Community is about coming together to support one another, and this event truly exemplified that spirit,” said Dave Wintrode, President of the Causeway Family of Dealerships and Causeway CAREs. “We are grateful to our partner organizations for joining us in making this event a huge success.”

On a picture-perfect October afternoon, 17 partner organizations came together to participate with creatively decorated trunks and distribute candy to the community. In addition to Causeway CAREs, participating organizations included Ocean County Vocational and Technical School, The HOPE Center, Interfaith Family Services, Ocean County Parks & Recreation Department, the Ocean County Prosecutor’s Office, St. Francis Community Center, Ocean Partnership for Children, the Toms River Police and Fire Departments, O.C.E.A.N. Inc Community Action, Bridge of Books Foundation, and many more!

Katherine Durante, Executive Director, OceanFirst Foundation, says that nonprofits must unite its resources together in order to create a greater impact in the community. “Partnering with Causeway CAREs, the Citta Foundation and Operation Warm allows us to extend our impact even further into the community,” she said. “It’s been a pleasure collaborating with the team at Operation Warm and the other local community foundation team members providing children with warm winter coats and nutritious meal boxes from Fulfill for their families as we move into the colder months ahead. We know this joint venture was successful in providing warmth, hope and confidence to the children and young adults in our community.”

Trick or treaters had the opportunity to visit trunks decorated with superheroes, clowns and carnivals, haunted houses, pizza parties and more. The event was not just a gathering to celebrate Halloween, but a gathering of the community committed to helping others. Approximately 350 costumed attendees reveled in the festivities.

The “Candy COATed Trunk or Treat” event showcased the power of collaboration between different organizations and the community they serve. It emphasized that together, Causeway CAREs and the other partner organizations can create meaningful change and provide vital support to their neighbors.

One of the central missions of this event was to provide warmth to those facing the upcoming winter season without adequate protection from the cold. The three foundations donated an estimated 350 winter coats through Operation Warm. In addition to the coats, 150 food boxes filled with nonperishable items were donated by Fulfill and distributed to those in need.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING FROM FAMILY PROMISE

All of us at Family Promise of the Jersey Shore are thankful everyday for the generous support we receive from our community that enables us to help local families facing homelessness.

Promise of the Jersey Shore throughout the year. We are truly grateful for every contribution, whether it be your time or a donation, that allows us to continue our mission of assisting local families in need. Thank you!

Most recently, we were thankful for the amazing donation of $35,100 from the Causeway Family of Dealerships and Causeway CAREs raised through their 6th Annual Causeways CAREs 5k. Thank you!

We are thankful for your monetary gifts to Family Promise of the Jersey Shore. Sadly, the need for our services is greater now than ever before. Your donations directly help many local families escape homelessness. Thank you!

We are also thankful for everyone who came out for our 10th Annual Gift Auction early this month and for making a fun evening such a successful event! Thank you!

We are not running a toy or coat drive this holiday season but instead we ask you to consider giving the gift of a donation that will allow us to continue to help local families overcome homelessness.

We are thankful for all our sponsors, donors and for St. Mary's for hosting us at their Parish Center in Manahawkin. A special thanks to Family Promise of the Jersey Shore Community Engagement Coordinator, Cheryl Polo for spearheading the fundraiser. And we are so thankful for all of our tireless volunteers who made it all happen. Thank you!

Donations can be sent to Family Promise of the Jersey Shore at PO Box 83 West Creek, NJ 08092.

We are thankful for everyone who supports and advocates for Family

25 YEARS LATER, INTERFAITH HEALTH STILL HELPS SENIORS

Interfaith Health and Support Services provides free help for seniors and their families in need from Forked River to Tuckerton.

By Veronica Flesher, Patch Staff

MANAHAWKIN, NJ — For the past 25 years, Interfaith Health and Support Services has been providing help to seniors in Southern Ocean County who can't get to doctor's appointments, are unable to grocery shop for themselves or are simply lonely and need to see or hear from a friendly face.

nonprofit helps those in need anywhere from just south of Lacey Road in Forked River down to Tuckerton, Director Amy Raimondi told Patch in a phone interview.

And "it's free for all people in need," Raimondi said. "It doesn't matter how much money you make."

Interfaith, known as IHSS, started out as a group of parish nurses going out

A van driver for the nonprofit with two care receivers. Transportation is the nonprofit's most-used service. (Courtesy of Interfaith Health and Support Services) into the community to help homebound people and those who live alone. They quickly realized there was a greater need in the area and nurses from different churches, with the help of Hackensack Meridian Health, formed the nonprofit. Today, there are more than 200 active volunteers in the organization, Raimondi said. Their biggest service is transportation to and from medical appointments - between their Manahawkin and Little Egg Harbor offices, they do about 50 rides a week, she said.

Their second-most used service is grocery shopping for homebound individuals. Some volunteers pick up online orders, but many will take a list and do the shopping for them, Raimondi said. And since many have great financial needs, there is a lot of food pantry picking up too.

"We've kind of grown faster, almost sometimes more than we can imagine," Raimondi said, with inflation causing prices to go up across the board. "The need for volunteers is so high right now."

The appointment transportation and grocery shopping are prioritized. But Raimondi wishes they could have volunteers who just come in to visit and play cards.

Another service of theirs focuses on caregivers. Specially trained volunteers visit the homes of people with Alzheimer's or dementia and offer respite to their caregivers.

In 2022, the nonprofit provided more than 10,200 hours of service.

Raimondi says that it is a blessing to be able to help not only those who use their services, but the volunteers as well.

"Volunteers come in and say, 'wow, I thought I was helping someone, but it was a blessing to me,'" Raimondi said.

"I started because I wanted to be of help to those in need but I also get so much back in return that I didn't expect," volunteer Lynn Rennar said in an IHSS news release. "I have met such wonderful and interesting people who are grateful for our services. I am so happy to be here."

"Neighbors helping neighbors is kind of our tagline," Raimondi said. "For me to be a catalyst to that is probably the best part."

IHSS is always seeking new volunteers. No experience is needed and IHSS will train you in their office. For more information, visit their website or call their office at 609-978-3839.

'TASTE TRADITIONS OF SOUTH JERSEY' FEATURED AT TUCKERTON SEAPORT

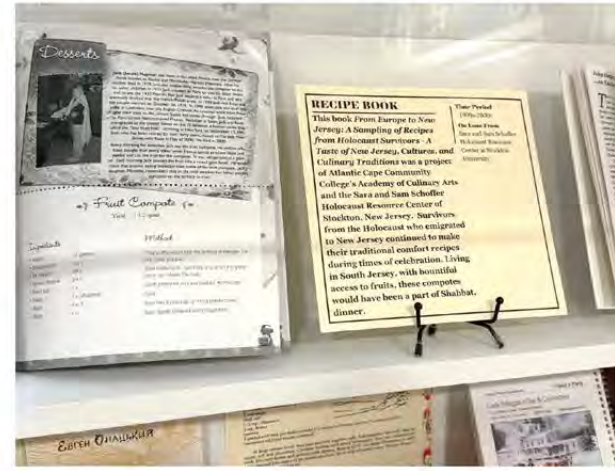

The new exhibit at Tuckerton Seaport focuses on the unique recipes, tools and cultures in the region.

By Veronica Flesher, Patch Staff

TUCKERTON, NJ — Food. Obviously, everyone needs to eat to live. But it's more than just sustenance. It unites generations and forms cultures.

Explore the unique foodways of the region with the Tuckerton Seaport & Baymen's Museum with the debut of their new exhibit: "Taste Traditions of South Jersey," on display from Nov. 4 through Jan. 31.

"Taste Traditions of South Jersey" is a project of the Jersey Shore Folklife

Center and the New Jersey State Council on the Arts, a partner agency of the National Endowment for the Arts. Located in the Tucker's Island Lighthouse's lower level gallery, guests will learn all about the unique recipes, tools and cultures affiliated with South Jersey.

To know a place is to know its people, its traditions and its food. "Taste Traditions of South Jersey" sheds light on some of the unique foodways of our region. Highlights include some unique artifacts of female entrepreneurs such as local cookbook creator Marilyn Schmidt, and Velma Brown, the first African American woman to have her recipe published in the annual Vineland cookbook of 1955.

See the oyster knives that Captain Oppie Speck of Tuckerton used to make his traditional Christmas Eve stew. Explore the process of making kutia, a Ukrainian Christmas porridge. Glance at a variety of South Jersey cookbooks from various cultures. Appreciate the tools that were once used to harvest cranberries in the 1950s. Discover the future of South Jersey foodways in Stockton University's Maple Grant tapping system.

The Seaport collaborated with individuals and organizations spanning throughout South Jersey to develop the content for the exhibit, highlighting different iconic foodways such as oysters, kutia, cranberries, apples, huckleberries, seafood, and potatoes. The Tuckerton Seaport invites you to come learn and celebrate with them this holiday season.

Featured contributors include Ed McKay, Susan Speck Polk, Michelle Washington Wilson, Ukrainian National Women's League Chapter 98, Stockton University's South Jersey Cultural & History Center, Sara and Sam Schoffer Holocaust Resource Center, and Sam Azzez Museum of Woodbine Heritage.

For information, call the Tuckerton Seaport & Baymen's Museum at 609-296-8868. Tuckerton Seaport is located at 120 West Main Street in Tuckerton, NJ. Please visit www.tuckertonseaport.org for more information about upcoming exhibits and programs.

STAFFORD NAMES OFFICIAL TOWNSHIP RAPTOR: THE OSPREY

The osprey, an important part of Stafford's ecosystem, has made a great recovery since being threatened by hunters, habitat loss and DDT.

By Veronica Flesher, Patch Staff

STAFFORD, NJ — The resilience of the native osprey has earned it a special honor: being named the official raptor of Stafford Township.

The Stafford Township Council officially named this honor at a recent meeting, noting the osprey's importance to the local ecosystem.

"The presence of ospreys helps promote a diverse and healthy ecosystem," Mayor Greg Myhre read from the proclamation. Ospreys were threatened in the 19th and early 20th centuries primarily by hunters and collectors, Myhre said.

Their threats continued into the 1950s and 60s with the use of toxic insecticides such as DDT and other factors like habitat loss. But the osprey has since made a recovery and can now frequently be seen in Stafford - something that wasn't always true.

Ben Wurst from Conserve Wildlife Foundation, who said he has worked with ospreys in New Jersey for almost 20 years, was present to accept the proclamation.

"I grew up in Manahawkin," Wurst said. "I don't recall seeing too many ospreys as a kid." That has since changed, he said.

"Today they're thriving, thankfully, because of the Clean Air Act, Clean Water Act and everything we've done to preserve open space for them to thrive and survive for future generations to enjoy," Wurst said.

WHEN DECORATING, IT HELPS TO PICK A MAIN FOCUS TO WORK AROUND

By Danielle Natale - Causeway Honda Sales Consultant

It's already November and we are still having what I would consider a "gossamer" or "goose summer" which means late Autumn warmth! This has been such a blessing and especially now that we have changed the clocks back. Not only have we been able to get out and enjoy last month's October festivals, but this weather has also allowed me to get some projects done again!

I swear I create more work for myself than I need to, but I just love changing things up in my home because it is my happy place. I probably have about 10 projects all happening at once in my head but about 5 halfway started.

The one that I think benefited my daughter and I the most is the bathroom. I mean girls spend a lot of time in there, so I want it to be a place of organization, fun design and cleanliness. I had picked out this bathroom friendly stick-on wallpaper. It isn't for everyone but when I saw this wallpaper, I knew exactly what I wanted to do.

I want every room in my home to be interesting and inspiring. I believe in mixing colors, patterns and multiple textures together to achieve what I call a museum like space. My decorating style is categorized as "Maximalism". Check it out on Pinterest!

If you are trying to reinvent a new space in your own home and you are not sure where to start, then I'd suggest first finding one main focus. Pick something that speaks to who you are and how you want to feel in that space. It could be something simple. For myself, it was the wallpaper and the colors in that wallpaper that became the main color palette for my renovation.

Do some fun research on Pinterest and see if you can find out what your personal style is. Perhaps you already have a style and you just need some fresh ideas! Just don't rush through the project because the end result will be so much more satisfying if you take the time and think of every thoughtful aspect.

Interior design should be a reflection of self and that of the people around you. Send me some before and after pictures! I'd love to see if I have inspired anyone to be bold in their own homes!

FREE AT-HOME ART PROGRAM OFFERED BY TUCKERTON SEAPORT

By Veronica Flesher, Patch Staff

TUCKERTON, NJ — Residents of Ocean and Atlantic County who are homebound can experience art for free thanks to the Tuckerton Seaport.

The Jersey Shore Folklife Center at Tuckerton Seaport recently announced its continued partnership with the New Jersey State Council on the Arts for another year of renewed Folk and Traditional Arts at Home Programming. This free program began in 2018 and is offered to homebound Ocean and Atlantic County residents.

Funding for this program was made possible in partnership with the New Jersey State Council for the Arts through a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Facilitated by the Jersey Shore Folklife Center, homebound individuals can receive in-home performances, demonstrations, or instructional interactions with a folk artist of choice. These sessions are designed to deepen community engagement opportunities for both artists and participants. These workshops broaden cultural opportunities for artists and participants who cannot engage in community arts events.

Diverse Folk Arts Programming: Course offerings include fiber arts, basketry, folk singing, and wood carving. Participants can choose the medium that best suits their interests and goals.

Tailored Instruction: Experienced and passionate folk artists customize their teaching and lessons to each participant's unique needs and skill levels.

Flexible Scheduling: Artists can offer flexible scheduling options to accommodate availability.

Safe & Inclusive: Programming is accessible to individuals of all backgrounds and abilities.

Materials & Resources: Artists provide all

VISIT BARNEGAT'S STORIED PAST: 'HOMESCHOOL HISTORY' AT BARNEGAT BRANCH

BARNEGAT – Youngsters aged 7 to 10 can learn about the origins of Barnegat Township during “Homeschool History: The History of Barnegat,” 10 AM Friday, December 8 at the Ocean County Library Barnegat Branch.

Barnegat Historical Society member Jamey Stofko will shed light on the township's Lenape roots, the occupations that helped it grow, how children lived, the evolution of the downtown area, and of course, Barnegat Pete, the township's famous deer.

A township resident for nearly 40 years, Jamey has served in several leadership roles for the Barnegat Historical Society Museum. Her tours of downtown and the Museum have been learning experiences for homeschool groups, hiking clubs and Scout troops.

The former pediatric occupational therapist for the Manchester Township Public Schools holds degrees from Glassboro State College (now Rowan

Rosemarie / stock.adobe.com

University) and Georgian Court University, Lakewood, and is also a registered yoga instructor at Barnegat's Hanu Yoga and Holistic Arts Studio and at Georgian Court University.

Please register at <https://bit.ly/oclhometownhistory> to attend this free program.

For more information, stop by the OCL Barnegat Branch, 112 Burr Street, call (609) 698-3331, or visit www.theoceancountylibrary.org/events.

SENIORS CAN EXPERIENCE BENEFITS OF REIKI AT OCEAN COUNTY LIBRARY

TOMS RIVER – The Ocean County Library is pleased to present a program that will familiarize senior citizens with a Japanese healing practice known as Reiki and its ability to support relaxation and well-being. “Serenity Touch: A Reiki Program for Seniors” will be offered at three OCL branches:

- Plumsted Branch – 11 AM Saturday, December 2, 119 Evergreen Road, New Egypt, (609) 758-7888.
- Point Pleasant Borough Branch – 11 AM Saturday, December 9, 834 Beaver Dam Road, (732) 295-1555.
- Barnegat Branch – 11 AM Saturday, December 16, 112 Burr Street, (609) 698-3331.

Laura Giacobbe, a Certified Reiki Master Teacher in the tradition of Johre (“White Light”) Reiki, will present an overview of the chakra system and the value of Reiki in a regimen to promote well-being, and will teach ways to sense or feel energy.

Reiki is a complement to traditional care or a personal relaxation technique.

CELEBRATE HOLIDAYS WITH HORBELT INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL CAROLERS AT BARNEGAT BRANCH

BARNEGAT – Catch the spirit of the season with young voices raised in song. The Ocean County Library Barnegat Branch is pleased to present a performance by the Robert L. Horbelt Intermediate School Carolers, 1 PM Friday, December 15.

The program will feature traditional and modern holiday favorites by fifth- and sixth-grade students in the chorus and bell choir, under the direction of Ms. Lauren Sawall, selected ensembles, and the school band directed by Mr. Anthony Orecchio.

Please register at <https://bit.ly/oclbarnegathorbeltcarolers> to attend this free program. For more information, stop by the OCL Barnegat Branch, 112 Burr Street, visit www.theoceancountylibrary.org/events, or call (609) 698-3331.

ENJOY HOLIDAY LIGHT SHOW AT THE WARETOWN BRANCH

WARETOWN – Remember being dazzled by houses in your neighborhood aglow with imaginative, festive winter holiday lights? Revel in stunning displays from around the world without leaving your seat at the Ocean County Library Waretown Branch, 7 PM Monday, December 11.

Enjoy an hour of glittering light displays in a video that's also available for borrowing in OCL's Kanopy catalog. You'll see breathtaking, crystal-clear views of homes, porches, lawns and buildings bathed in a rainbow of colors and countless designs. To add to the enjoyment, help yourself to a sweet treat. We'll provide light refreshments. Seating space is limited. Please register at <https://bit.ly/OclWaretownLights> for this free program. For more information, stop by the OCL Waretown Branch, 112 Main Street, or call (609) 693-5133.

THE BEST MASHED POTATOES

This best mashed potato recipe is often requested during Thanksgiving. It's totally tasty, and everyone will rave! For a variation, spread in a casserole dish and refrigerate overnight; the next day, sprinkle with extra Parmesan cheese and butter and reheat in the oven.

- Ingredients:
 5 pounds Yukon Gold potatoes
 2 cups Parmesan cheese
 1 1/2 cups cream cheese
 1 cup chopped fresh chives
 1/2 cup butter
 1/2 medium head garlic, peeled and minced
 1 pinch salt and pepper to taste
- Directions:
- Step 1: Gather all ingredients.
  - Step 2: Peel and quarter potatoes; place in a large pot. Cover with salted water and bring to a boil. Cook until tender but still firm, about 15 minutes.
  - Step 3: Drain and return potatoes to the pot over low heat to dry for 1 to 2 minutes.
  - Step 4: Add Parmesan cheese, cream cheese, chives, butter, garlic, salt, and pepper.
  - Step 5: Use a potato masher to mash until smooth and serve.

TOP 10 BLACK FRIDAY SHOPPING TIPS FOR 2023

By James K. Willcox and Samantha B. Gordon consumerreports.org

Some of us wait all year for the Black Friday shopping season, our heads filled with the promise of scoring the very best price on a new TV, smart speaker, laptop or other high-tech gadget. And for good reason—this is when we tend to see some of the biggest discounts of the year on virtually everything.

In the past few years, the start of the holiday season has shifted earlier and earlier. This year, it kicked off at the beginning of October with a big sale at Target, followed by sitewide savings events at Amazon, Best Buy, and Walmart.

A holiday shopping trend report from Adobe predicts that the discounts being offered this year will reach record highs. And even though there are plenty of great sales now, the best prices will still come around Cyber Week. Black Friday is still the best time to get a new TV at a discount. Saturday is expected to bring the deepest discounts on laptops; toys and apparel will be at their best prices on Sunday; and Cyber Monday will be the ideal time to get electronics and appliances.

The final three tips in the list below apply specifically to TVs, always a hot-ticket item at this time of year.

1. Start early. Sales have already begun, which means you don't have to wait for Black Friday weekend to find discounts. Retailers are offering deals on items in virtually every category, and many have holiday refund and return policies that include partial refunds for items that go on sale for less later in the season. Target, for instance, offers price match adjustments for anything bought at its stores or online between Oct. 22 and Dec. 24. If you see that the price has dropped, contact customer service and they'll refund you the difference.

2. Skip the in-store sales and shop online. While many deals will be available in-person and online, you may have more luck and more options by shopping from your phone or computer. In recent years, we've seen retailers offer more of the same promotions online as they do in stores. We've also seen more stores remaining closed on Thanksgiving, giving shoppers even more incentive to turn to their online counterparts to find deals during the holiday.

3. Use websites and apps. To judge how good the deals really are in crunch time, you need to track prices leading up to Black Friday. The same goes for Cyber Monday. But you don't have to go retailer by retailer to compare prices. The Consumer Reports website lists the current prices at various outlets for all the products in our ratings. You can also try Google Shopping, PriceGrabber, and Shopzilla. When you're in a store, smartphone apps such as BuyVia, Shopkick, ShopSavvy, and Shopular let you scan bar codes or QR codes to compare prices, get discounts, and score coupons. There are now dozens of websites that post leaked—and authorized—Black Friday ads. We regularly check BestBlackFriday.com, DealNews.com, TheBlackFriday.com, and GottaDeal.com. Sign up for deal alerts, which you can usually filter by product category.

4. Use loyalty programs. Store loyalty programs often grant members early access to coupons, sales, and promotions, then let them earn rewards on what they buy. So sign up for Black Friday shopping alerts.

5. Get social. The Facebook, Instagram, and X (formerly Twitter) feeds of your favorite retailers are a great way to find out about exclusive deals and promotions. Retailers will often reward customers who like or follow them with special alerts to Black Friday discounts and incentives. And of course texts and social media posts are an easy way to share Black Friday shopping intel with your friends, too.

6. Create a budget—and stick to it. Yes, this sounds simple. But Black Friday sales, especially the doorbuster specials available in limited quantities, are designed in part to get you into a store or shopping online so that the retailer can sell you stuff you weren't intending to buy. It's really easy to get caught up in the excitement and overspend. Decide ahead of time how much you want to your Black Friday shopping spree to cost, and do your best to resist impulse buying, especially if you're not sure how good a deal is.

7. Check all store policies in advance. It's always good to know a store's price-match and return policies. Almost all the major retailers have some form of price-match policy, and they've been expanding them almost every year.

Tips for TV Shoppers

8. Wait until Black Friday to buy. This year, as in years past, we're expecting to see the biggest discounts on televisions on Black Friday. The Adobe trend report is predicting discounts as high as 19 percent on average, which is up from just 11 percent last year. So it's shaping up to be a great year to upgrade your TV.

9. Consider a "derivative" TV model. Starting this month, you'll begin to see low-priced TVs made specifically for Black Friday. Some are available only through a single retailer. These sets are called "derivatives," because they're derived from mainstream models—they just have different model numbers and maybe scaled-back features, such as fewer HDMI inputs or a simpler remote control.

10. Beware the cheapest set. Super-low-priced doorbuster specials draw people in with visions of savings, but the sets—often from lesser-known brands—are not always worth the price.

"It is always worth reminding people that Black Friday products are often older technology or specifically engineered to sell at a special Black Friday price and may not be exactly what a consumer would choose," Stephen Baker, vice president for industry analysis at the market research firm NPD Group, told us.

Keep in mind that you'll be watching your new TV for a number of years. If you're not happy with the features or picture quality, you may regret not spending the extra $50 to $100 to get something better.

Those loss-leader TVs are usually at their rock-bottom price, too. A retailer may have more wiggle room on a step-up or flagship model, and you shouldn't hesitate to ask for a better price—regardless of the time of year.

BEST GREEN BEAN CASSEROLE

A green bean casserole makes the Thanksgiving holiday complete, and this version can be on the table in no time at all thanks to just four ingredients from your pantry or fridge: canned green beans, condensed mushroom soup, French-fried onions, and shredded Cheddar cheese.

Ingredients:

Green beans: This easy green bean casserole starts with two drained cans of green beans.

Canned soup: A can of condensed cream of mushroom soup creates a creamy texture and adds savory flavor.

Cheese: This recipe calls for shredded Cheddar cheese. Use sharp, mild, or a blend of both.

French-fried onions: The green bean casserole gets its crunch from a French-fried onion topping.

Optional ingredients: Crumbled bacon, sautéed mushrooms or onions, garlic, Parmesan cheese, black pepper

Directions:

Step 1: Mix the beans and soup in a microwave-safe bowl and microwave until warm.

Step 2: Stir in half the cheese. Microwave until melted and well-blended.

Step 3: Transfer to a prepared baking dish. Top with fried onions and remaining cheese.

Step 4: Bake in the preheated oven until the cheese is melted and the onions are brown. In an oven preheated to 350 degrees F, this canned green bean casserole should be perfectly cooked in about 10 minutes. Of course, that doesn't include the 5-8 minutes the ingredients spend in the microwave!

Furry Friends

Who Need Fur-Ever Homes!

Finn is a 6 year old Yellow Lab Mix who was surrendered to the shelter when his owner passed away. He is a gentle boy who walks well on a leash, is housebroken, crate trained and knows how to sit, lay down, and give paw. He loves belly rubs, walks and playing fetch. He has never lived with children so we feel he would do best in a home with children 10 years old or older. He does need to be the only pet. If you would like to meet this handsome boy, stop by the Ocean County Animal Shelter located at 360 Haywood Road, Manahawkin, any day between 1 and 4pm. If you are unable to adopt but would still like to help the homeless pets in So. Ocean Co., donations can be made through our website, Fosocas.org or mailed to Fosocas, P.O. Box 1162, Manahawkin, N.J. 08050.

Finn

When you think of the word meadow, you think of something calm and serene. Thus we named this pretty little girl Meadow. She is a petite, laid back girl with a sweet, gentle nature and the cutest little white mittens. Meadow is only about 1 to 1 1/2 years old, just a kitten herself. She would love to find a new home with someone to give her lots of pets and attention. She loves laying in her comfy little bed, so a bed is a must in her new home. If you would like to meet sweet little Meadow, please fill out an application on line at Fosocas.org and her foster Mom will contact you for a meet and greet in her home in Manahawkin. Of course she is spayed, up to date with vaccinations, tested negative for FIV and FeLV and microchipped.

Meadow Allen

If you are looking to adopt, have questions or want to volunteer please call: 609-978-0127 or go to www.fosocas.org
Please call the Southern Ocean County Animal Shelter to make an appointment!
Open daily 1:00pm - 4:00pm and until 6:30pm on Wednesdays.

ANNUAL HOLIDAY DISPLAY BENEFITS ST. JUDE'S CHILDREN HOSPITAL

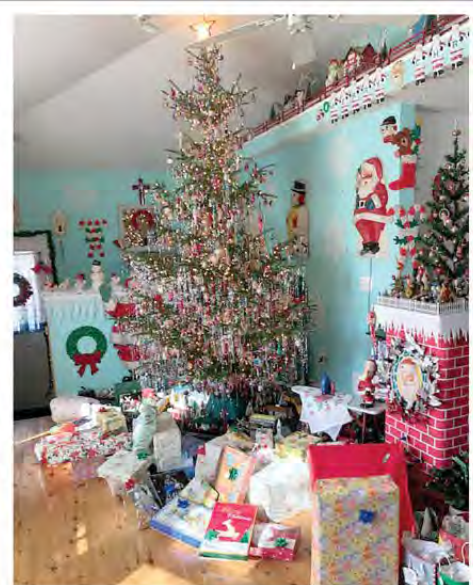

By Edward Bankel of Causeway Honda

Christmas is a magical time of year, a time to give and spread joy. The fun truly begins on the first of November when every piece of Halloween comes down, and Christmas decorations go up. We fully complete the house, inside and out, around the second week of December. However, there have been times when we finished decorating on Christmas Eve. We spend four months out of the year just for Christmas—November and December to decorate, and January and February to remove and repair.

Throughout the entire year, we plan, build, and test our decorations

Whether it's spring or summer, we are always building something new for the Christmas display. However, this year, we have an even greater plan. You'll be able to ride on a miniature scale train, take pictures with Santa, and sit in a real restored sleigh. Remember to bring your own camera or smart device. We'll be offering this experience for two weekends only in December. The entire house will be decorated, and all of this is free. While we will be accepting money donations, 100% of the donations collected on both weekends will go to St. Jude's Children's Hospital.

Come on by for a train ride and a picture with Santa. All are welcome—the more, the merrier! What greater gift to give than to support St. Jude's Children's Hospital. Let's make this a success. Merry Christmas from the Bankel family.

'OUR ITALIAN JOURNEY': MEET LOCAL AUTHORS JOHN & NANCY PETRALIA AT THE LONG BEACH ISLAND BRANCH

SURF CITY - The Italian Cultural Society of Long Beach Island will sponsor "Our Italian Journey", a presentation by authors John and Nancy Petralia, former island residents, at the Ocean County Library Long Beach Island Branch, 2 PM Tuesday, November 28.

They will discuss how Italian lessons at the Long Beach Island Foundation led to travel on three continents and the publication of three books: Not in a Tuscan Villa, Looking for Garibaldi, and Without Provenance: The Making of an "Authentic" Caravaggio.

Their books are love letters to Italy's history, art and culture. Join us for this tribute to the nation that has captured their hearts and inspired their creativity.

Please register at <https://bit.ly/ocllbiOurItalianJourney> to attend this free program. For more details, stop by the OCL Long Beach Island Branch, 217 South Central Avenue, Surf City, or call (609) 494-2480.
